Production Preview Guide

HELLO, DOLLY!

Strong-willed Dolly Gallagher Levi is the ideal matchmaker – she has marriage on her mind, and a recipe for love in her pocket. But she may have met her match when grouchy "half-a-millionaire" Horace Vandergelder enters the scene, looking for the perfect bride. Humor and romance abound in this universally acclaimed smash hit that has been nominated for over 50 awards, and touched the hearts of millions across the globe. Plus, beloved Village Theatre favorite Bobbi Kotula will don the mantle of the ruby red dress... it'll be "nice to have her back where she belongs."

THE PURPOSE OF A PRODUCTION PREVIEW GUIDE:

Many people have different ideas about what material is appropriate, both for themselves and their families. This production preview guide is provided to give you the necessary information to determine if the content of our production is suitable for you and your loved ones. Please be aware that this document is provided with the intent of full disclosure, and therefore contains plot spoilers. Also, because all of our productions are locally produced, there may be cases where minor changes occur as the director prepares the show for the stage. In such cases, this guide will be updated accordingly. Once the show is open and on stage, there will be no further changes.

SCRIPT CONTENT DETAILS:

Language

The word "damn" is used a few times.

Alcohol

There are a few instances of social drinking at the restaurant.

Additional Notes

There are some cavalier comments made about women, including "I paid for that girl and I want all the parts." The song "It Takes a Woman" includes lyrics such as "It takes a woman all powdered and pink, to joyously clean out the drain in the sink."
